JO-BOLTS

Jo-bolt is a trade name for an internally threaded three-piece rivet. The Jo-bolt consists of three parts - a threaded steel alloy bolt, a threaded steel nut, and an expandable stainless steel sleeve. The parts are factory preassembled. As the Jo-bolt is installed, the bolt is turned while the nut is held. This causes the sleeve to expand over the end of the nut, forming the blind head and clamping against the work. When driving is complete, a portion of the bolt breaks off. The high shear and tensile strength of the Jo-bolt makes it suitable for use in cases of high stresses where some of the other blind fasteners would not be practical. Jo-bolts are often a part of the permanent structure of late model aircraft. They are used in areas which are not often subjected to replacement or servicing. (Because it is a three part fastener, it should not be used where any part, in becoming loose, could be drawn into the engine air intake.) Other advantages of using Jo-bolts are their excellent resistance to vibration, weight saving, and fast installation by one person.

Monroe Aerospace is a stocking distributor of Aerospace and Mil-Spec hardware. We have an extensive inventory of jo-bolts. Every part that we sell is in Factory new (FN) condition and we provide our company's certificate of conformance for all parts on every order. See below for our products.
